The result of the voting now going on for the election of four Queens among the fairest daughters of Italy to the several quarters of this city inhabited by Italians shows today some startling developments.

Especially in the case of "Little Italy," the most densely populated Italian quarter of this city, where since the Evening World assumed to publish daily the results of the contest and the pictures of the most successful candidates, a friendly war among the several most popular competitors has been inaugurated.

Yesterday the number of votes showed that Maria Pesce, of No. 21 Pleasant av., was the leader, having more than five hundred votes. Today's reporting shows Rosina Spera, of No. 204 1st av., obtained yesterday over 600 votes.

Rivalry on West Side.

The same keen competition is now going on in the West Side, where yesterday Miss Giovanna De Gregorio was only a few votes ahead of her rival, Emma Costore, of No. 177 Breckin street, and today she gained over 300 votes, thus passing her rival.

By a comparison of the results of the voting, a charming girl residing at No. 154 Grand st., is only a few votes ahead of her rival, Nora Di Sapio, of No. 81 Baxter street, and unless her friends do their best to provide her with more votes she may find herself second in the race before many days are past.

In Brooklyn a large number of votes were cast the past two days, but as they have not all been counted yet, Tina Giamboreo seems still in the lead. There are rumors that a great surprise is in store for Tina and her friends, and by watching the Evening World they may soon perceive some fair rival forging ahead of her.

There Will Be Princesses, Too.

However, there is no necessity for discouragement in case a rival makes an occasional spurt in the number of votes obtained. The Executive Committee in charge of the contest has just arranged that in view of the heavy vote and the large number of candidates the four girls obtaining the largest number of votes in each district, after the one entitled to the honors of Queen, shall be made Princesses of the Court. They will also be the right to take a prominent part in the festival at the Grand Central Palace on Oct. 22, and will receive a beautiful golden brooch from the committee. They will for a year bring to the eyes of the Queen elected in their respective districts, and because of their position, will be allowed to take part in the numerous Italian festivals of the year to which the Queens themselves will be invited.

It is only natural that all the candidates should do their best in order to obtain the votes of their friends and acquaintances. For this reason let them tell everybody they know to cut out the coupon from The Evening World and send it to the committee in charge of the voting in the district in which they reside. They shall be permitted to inform their friends that all communications regarding the contest are to be sent to the several committees and not to The Evening World.

MAY NAME GOLDFOGE FOR A JUDGE SHIP YET.

In the revision of the Tammany slate for the Supreme Court nominations strong pressure is being brought upon Charles F. Murphy to put the name of Congressman Henry M. Goldfogle on the list. The former judge was re-nominated for Congress in the Ninth District Tuesday night, but in the event of an absolute split between Tammany and the Independence League on the judiciary ticket there is a chance of another shuffling of the political cards, in which case Goldfogle may be withdrawn from the Congress list and be named for the Supreme Court. He has long been ambitious to fill the seat of Judge Goldfogle, which he has always been strong, especially in the east side and in Harlem, and that his record on the Supreme Court has been exceptionally clean and meritorious. His name was sound, and their strength gave him little prospect of success. Goldfogle, according to the policy of retaining able judges and promoting them to place him upon the Supreme bench. Many powerful influences in Tammany Hall are at work in the Congressmen's behalf, and it is declared that their claim for re-nomination for the judiciary ticket, they say, would give it a vote-carrying strength, especially in the district where Socialism and the Hearst following are strong.

YALE SENIOR WEDS A TELEPHONE GIRL.

Mother Wanted to Take Him to Europe, but He Would Not Leave Sweetheart.

WINSTED, Conn., Oct. 5.—Edward Lincoln Fenn, a senior at Yale, and son of the late Judge A. H. Fenn, of the Supreme Court, married Mabel G. Deming, a telephone girl, yesterday. They had been friends for many years and were students together at the Girls' Preparatory School. The Fenn family wanted young Edward to wait until he had finished his college course. His father and sister planned to take him to Europe with them. "I will not go where I will be separated from my sweetheart," said he. They were married in a quiet ceremony at the home of the bride's father. The couple left for Tennessee today, and Mrs. Fenn and her daughter will go abroad next week.

The opportunity is too great to let slip! The extent of our grand free excursions can be no surprise for this reason. For when people go out to East Williston and learn the facts, they return to their homes filled with a new and most wonderful story. They tell this wonderful story to their friends. As a result the crowds grow larger with each train that we send out. As these crowds grow the opportunity is fast passing.

THEREFORE TAKE FRIENDLY WARNING.

Don't fail to press in at once with the people who are building up East Williston. With the people who will make the big money. Try at least to get down to the East 34th Street Ferry next Sunday afternoon by 2 o'clock. Reach Ferry before then if convenient. Trains leave station in Long Island City at 2:10 and 2:20. We can have seats for everybody if you only come early. As the crowds increase extra coaches are added, but we cannot lengthen the trains at the last moment.

You'll find our representatives dressed in white every day not only at the East 34th Street Ferry, New York, but also at the Flatbush Avenue Station, Brooklyn, ready to give you free of charge tickets good for the round trip. These tickets are given freely without interview or question.

But we would urge you to get your requests in at the Flatbush Avenue Station by 1:45 or 1:50 P. M. Don't delay. Regular train leaving Flatbush Avenue at 2:00 P. What a $20 Bill Will Do!

You cannot go to any other neighborhood of such quality and do anything with a $10 or $20 bill. You cannot start a $20 bill anywhere else with such assurance that you're going to make a thousand profit before you pay in a thousand.

You cannot go anywhere else and get the improvements. You cannot get into a locality that'll build up as fast.

Ground has not only been broken for nice homes, but the foundations are up. At the corner of Nassau Boulevard and Sheridan Avenue two lovely residences will be built at a cost of $6,000 each. Many more houses have been contracted for. At Nassau Boulevard and East Williston Avenue a splendid Hotel will be erected in the midst of beautiful grounds.

Oh! we're doing things out here at East Williston! We are not showing the people a field with a plow mark through it. We're building good streets, sidewalks with broad granolithic stone, and we're going to light these streets with big lamps, same as Riverside Drive. Not only this, but we'll have a waterworks. You will also have gas for heating and cooking piped to your premises.

You will get the same conveniences that you get on Manhattan Island, and you won't be any farther away from Madison Square than most of Harlem is.

Do you wonder? Why wouldn't we be making the sales?

Remember that our prices for large building sites, with stipulations which will protect the quality of each lot, range upward from
